Editor's Note

What we can promise you is a companion as passionate and at least as smart about the games you love as you are, a Sports Diary which consists of all the events that happened on our court in that particular semester. A diary that both enhances your enjoyment and adds to your knowledge. As an editor I feel there is a need to spread sports culture in our college and such diary will further our that initiative. Hope you love it all.

From the very start of my law school journey, sports is the thing which has excited me the most. A Diary is what we need to cherish all the memories we have spent on the court together and we as a committee will try to keep bringing new initiatives to foster your sporty mood.

Until our next issue, I hope to see you on the fields and courts.

Yours in sport and physical activity.

TALENT HUNT WAS ORGANIZED BY SPORTS COMMITTEE FOR THE NEW FIRST YEAR BATCH

First years vs. Rest of the Years

A fine performance from the bowlers and an impactful cameo from batters helped 'Rest of Years' (RoY) team to record a win over the First Years. Batters, like Chitraksh and Aashay from the First Years, made some huge shots hitting guest house walls and windows. Whereas, the bowling pace of Rohit, Aniket and Lakshya evidently made the senior batters worried.

The game saw sheer determination in the First Years when they could not let seniors take lead until the last 10 mins of the game. Powerful shots from Dhyey, Yash and aggressive defending by Aryan Sood, Kashish, Puhania and Arnav helped the first years stop the seniors to dominate the field. RoY won the game by 3-0.

The fiercest match was fought in volleyball between both teams. Beginners (who did not really act beginners) from First Years took the tally of both sets above 20. Cylina, Aryan Sood, Rohit, and Tejas were star players from the First Years. The match was won by RoY by 2-0.

The basketball team from the first year saw great participation from both female and male players; Nivedita, Abhinav, Rishika, Harman were few among those who played exceptionally well from the first years. The match was won by RoY

DEFENCE CLASSES

While it is important for the state to protect its citizens, the best way to save yourself is to be on your own guard. In accordance with this notion, The Sports Committee, in collaboration with the "She is Equal" project (an initiative under the aegis of the UN Millennium Fellowship), organised self-defence classes on campus. Two sessions were held one on November 17, 2022, and the other on November 24, 2022. Jaguar Sports Club of Martial Arts, a well-known martial arts club, helped in conducting these sessions and even offered subsidised equipment for the classes.

Participants were apprised of the importance of exercising and a healthy lifestyle by the coaches. They underwent rigorous training sessions, which included running and stretching exercises, self-defence techniques, kickboxing, etc. Several self-defence techniques and tricks were taught to the participants and it proved to be an engaging experience.

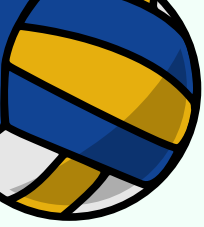

In collaboration with Meraki Project

WOMENS CRICKET MATCH

Among the many other challenges and competitions that were conducted in the semester, the women's cricket match had also taken place. The matches were enthralling and the participation was huge. Mithali Raj, once said that the best way to be successful is to be fearless, and that is exactly how fearlessly the NLUD women cricketers played to make every match a greater and bigger success.
